

HOW CAN WE HOLD SPACE FOR TRANSFORMING OURSELVES WHILE TRANSFORMING THE WORLD?

BIG QUESTIONS for URGENT TIMES

Poster inside! BY: SARJ

WHAT'S THE ROLE OF LISTENING IN REVOLUTION?

Curious?
Let's explore possibilities together!

Sarj.berlin@pm.me
Sarjlynch.notion.site
joycast.substack.com

HOW CAN WE SLOW DOWN ENOUGH TO REALLY HEAR EACH OTHER?

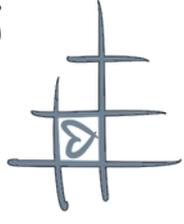

How will we cultivate joy as we grow our collective power?

HOW MIGHT WE BUILD COALITIONS WITH FOLKS WE DON'T FULLY AGREE WITH?

WHAT STRUCTURES OF SUPPORT CAN WE BUILD THAT THEY CANNOT DEMOLISH?

A hand-drawn illustration in black ink on a white background. At the top is a stylized mask with two large, empty eye holes. Below the mask is a thick, dark wreath decorated with various floral and leaf patterns. In the center of the wreath, the text "all that you touch you change all that you change changes you." is written in a bold, hand-drawn font. At the bottom center of the wreath is a solid black triangle with a white outline. The background around the wreath has some light, sketchy lines.

all that
you touch
you change
all that you change
changes
you.