#Eden4All

Eden + DAO on EOS

This process is for any community wanting to use transparent, decentralized, and democratic processes to do things together

From book clubs & gamer guilds to startup cities & nation states & everything in-between

Step 1:

Select your Launch Team

The Launch Team is 5-7 people selected by the community using the “Eden Political Playoffs / Upvote Process” whom embody the shared consensus vision of the community

Step 2:

Co-Create the DAO

The Launch Team (consultant/guidance available in the Eden community) sets up the community DAO (initial bylaws, circles, roles, quests, cultural norms, etc), naming the vision/mission and setting up other collaboration tools aligned with the consensus strategy of the community

Step 3:

Community joins DAO

After the Launch Team has set up the collaboration environment - the community comes in to fill out roles, participate in the political playoffs, complete quests, and deliver on the mission/vision of the community. The community may decide to still use the playoffs for a myriad reasons (distribute funds, select

Eden Member = Consensus Builder (new career path)

How to DAO / Consensus Games / Infinite Game designer dUniversity (proposed):

- Hosting sessions with knowledgeable players in the Decentralized Coordination space specifically for Eden members to join, learn, ask questions, etc
- Ongoing training to help Eden members become better “Decentralised Governance Consultants” to assist new communities in creating their DAOs
- Increasing knowledge of decentralized governance in EOS/Antelope/Eden

Consensus Games & Infinite Coordination Games

“The purpose of the Eden Community is to demonstrate and replicate the Fractal Governance process” - Dan Larimer 6/21 (Eden Founder)

Bring your existing DAO to EOS with Eden!

- Tired of off-chain proposals and high fees? Join Eden and unlock instant and fee-free on-chain governance for your DAO
- Tired of oligarchs and insiders running your DAO? Join Eden and unlock the “political playoffs” which are a transparent, open, & democratic process for selecting leaders who share the consensus vision of your community
- Join Eden: a community who's at the forefront of experimenting with People-Powered & Sybil Resistant Decentralized Governance

Consider hiring a veteran Eden member to help guide your community through the process:

- Eden members are constantly exercising their “Consensus Building” muscles during each election and throughout the seasons.
- Members earn badges/NTTs/SBTs for participating and demonstrating their ability to reach consensus in competitive environments
- Consider hiring a “highly decorated” member (one with lots of positive NTTs) to guide your community through this journey

Eden Decentralized & Fractal Governance Consultants Circle (proposed)

- When you join Eden you're able to join a group of humans who are focused on:
  - up-leveling our consensus building skills
  - learning decentralised governance
  - becoming better consultants for other DAOs and communities (to help EOS expand to serve other communities)

Summary / Notes

By Rieki Cordon The delegates that elected me were unified around common themes of governance and participation (the how's and why's).

Summary of core themes brought by members as I see them:

- A. How can Eden demonstrate its effectiveness to potentially serve as a process for selecting (or influencing the selection) of BP's on EOS? Going beyond this how might other groups understand how they could use Eden (like using it for a startup city, independent party, bioregional governance (e.g. communities coordinating locally to meet needs), multi-lateral alliances (like networked Startup cities, with industry, etc), etc)?
- B. How can Eden members contribute to Eden between elections? How can one be empowered to take action and be recognized when we do?
- C. What does the Eden governance landscape look like? Or, otherwise said, "How do people know how, what, where, and when to create with us here?"
- D. Most importantly "why do people want to create with Eden?" And how can people who are inspired by this "why" actually contribute to making their "why's" happen with Eden?

What I aim to bring as CD (working list that I'm happy to adapt with feedback - more interested in bringing what is actually wanted than what I think is wanted):

1. Sense and report on the current and potential state of the Eden "Governance Landscape"
2. Ideate with other CD's proposals to bring Eden members, for extending the capacity of Eden towards organizing startup towns and cities, independent parties, and other causes.
3. depending on the complexity of the Eden Ecosystem or divergent governance ideas (e.g. a contested future that may require a broader dialogue/vote) I aim to produce an Eden branded "orientation guide" v1.0 for how existing and new members can contribute to Eden and Eden DAOs and tangibly move our tools and movements forward.
