Dedicated in Memory

Dr. Hyman R. Kamens, '47
1922-2000

The NEWENCO class of 2001 proudly dedicates our yearbook to Dr. Hyman Kamens, who faithfully served the college with his good humor, intelligence and leadership for over 50 years. He will be fondly remembered by generations of NEWENCO graduates as a mentor, counselor and friend.

Dr. Kamens earned a Bachelor of Arts degree from Indiana University and a Doctor of Optometry degree from The Massachusetts College of Optometry, Magna Cum Laude, in 1947. During the past 50 years he has served in many important academic and administrative roles including director of the Massachusetts College of Optometry Clinic, dean of the College, dean of administration, professor of Optometry, and director of admissions.

With the tremendous efforts of Dr. Kamens, The New England College of Optometry has become what it is today. It is with deep appreciation and admiration that we remember this great man who has dedicated so much of his life to inspiring all our futures.

Dear Class of 2001,

The time has come to say good-bye to one aspect of our life and embark on a new journey—life after optometry school. These four years have flown by and it seems like only yesterday that we met up in the White Mountains of New Hampshire during orientation week. We have sweated and smiled through four years of lectures, labs, clinics, trips to remote parts of the world, and numerous good times. Hopefully, this yearbook will encompass all that we have experienced together over the last four years.

In looking back, the comradeship we have shared and the friendships we have made are what I am going to miss the most. As a class, we helped each other out and stood by one another during our years here at NEWENCO. An excellent example of this is the amount of energy everyone has put into the yearbook. Whether it was fundraising, or layout or taking photos, everyone in our class chipped in to make the task easier and more pleasant.

As you can guess, the creation of a yearbook takes much time and effort. Without the hard work and dedication of twenty-one individuals in our class, this yearbook would not have been possible. I would like to take this opportunity to recognize their tremendous work and thank them personally. They are as follows:

Debbie Amster, Neha Ashar, Catie Bennett, Anna DeNardo, Jen DeVita, Jason Griffith, Angela Grillo, Nina Ha, Peter Hall, Stacy Hamlet, Elizabeth Huynh, Chelsea Jackson, Naheed Malik, Kelly McGee, Lina Mendola, Hetal Rana, Ilaxi Rana, Neha Shah, Jonathan Slivka, Jeanette Tang, and Diane Wallach.

On behalf of the Class of 2001, I would like to thank all our professors, lecturers, preceptors, and clinical faculty members. Thank you for being our guides and imparting your knowledge to us so that we may succeed. To all the staff at NEWENCO, thank you for making our experience here a positive one.

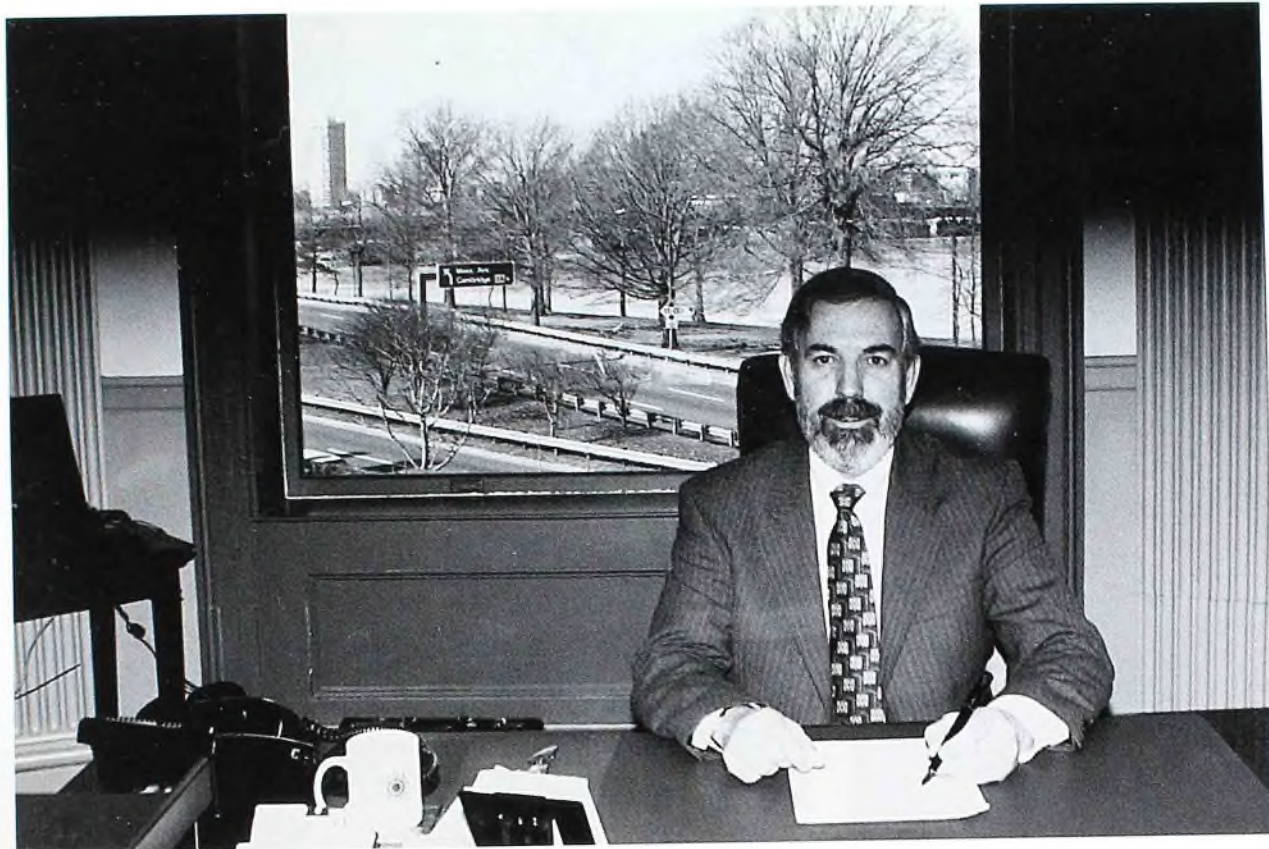

Last but not least, I would like to thank all of our families and friends for their endless support and love through these last four years. Without them, none of this would have been possible. I would like to personally thank my family for all their encouragement and unconditional love. We cannot thank you all enough and we appreciate all the sacrifices that you have made.

In closing I wish you all health, happiness, and success in everything that you do in the years to come. We have been through a lot together and there is much to look forward to. As our lives pull us in different directions, I hope we will make the effort to stay in touch. Be proud of what you have achieved and aware of what you will accomplish.

We finally made it Class of 2001! Congratulations Doctors!!

To the Class of 2001:

I am very pleased and proud to congratulate you on your graduation and to welcome you as colleagues into the profession of optometry. You have chosen a career that has the noblest of callings – that of service to patients. You now possess the knowledge and skills to preserve and enhance the gift of sight, but these alone do not justify the title of “doctor”. You must apply your knowledge with compassion, dedication, and integrity if you are to fully merit that distinction. Your graduation from this College signifies that the faculty has confidence in your commitment to do so.

As the newest members of the optometric profession and as graduates of The New England College of Optometry, you join over 100 years of classes before you in a proud and historic mission to serve the health and vision needs of the public. None before you has been better prepared to accomplish that mission. I wish you each the very best of success in your practice and in your life.

Amazing that the past four years have so quickly past by, and we thought it would never end. Four years ago we set out on this journey and it is with extreme sincerity that I praise all of you for graduating (I didn't think we would make it!). They say that when the character of a man is not clear to you, look at his friends-and I know that the friends I've made will aid in my character building. I am truly proud to have graduated amongst the likes of the cast of characters found in our class. NEWENCO had been home for us and we all seemed to mature and grow under the guidance and inspiration of our professors, our preceptors, and ourselves. The friendships we made here are for life. Our experiences and adventures with each other are irreplaceable and unforgettable and make good nostalgia-talk at reunions. And now, as we each set forth to explore our future destiny, my message to you is be happy. Your best shot at happiness, self-worth and personal satisfaction – the things that constitute real success – is not in earning as much as you can, but in performing as well as you can at something that you consider worthwhile. Don't sell yourself short. Appreciate your family, your friendships, and the difference you make to others. We came as students and now leave as Doctors. Carry that with distinction for no matter what the future may hold, no one can take that away from you.

Excellence is not a singular act, but a habit.

With the utmost sincerity,

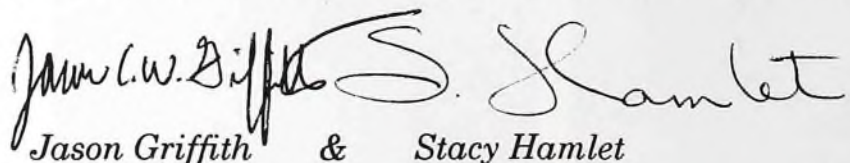

Baseem Wahab
Past-President, Student Government

Dearest Classmates, Faculty and Staff,

We want to take a moment to thank you all for making our time at NEWENCO a wonderful (and never dull!) experience. After four years of countless exams, proficiencies, boards, parties and trips... from our first meeting at the infamous class retreat, to our parting at graduation, we have enjoyed your friendship, laughter and support. As we leave Boston, and make our way across the country to California, to start our new life together, you will be in our thoughts, and will always occupy a place in our hearts and memories.

Sincerely,

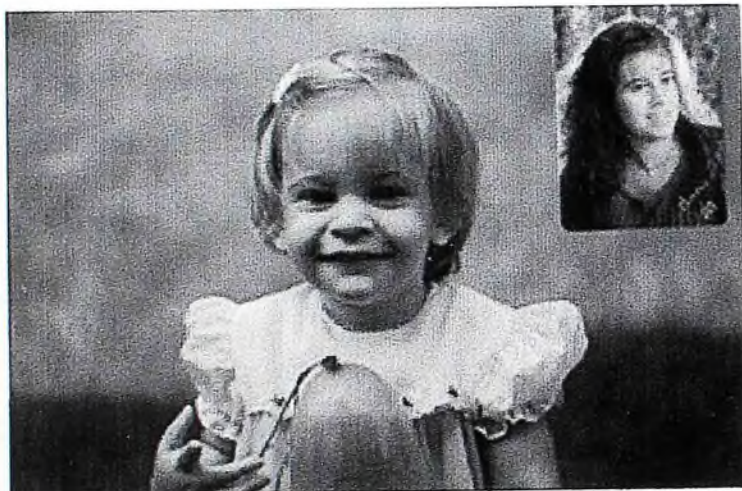

Jason Griffith & Stacy Hamlet

P.S.: And if you should find yourself planning a trip to Los Angeles... and you need a place to stay... don't hesitate to give us a call (really... even if it has been a few years.) The first round of margaritas is on us! ☺
