Introduce yourself	Hi, my name is Ocean and I'm a freelance illustrator from Miami Beach, Florida. I've long since been interested in pursuing a career in the arts and have been slowly (but surely) carving out a spot in the illustration world.
Do you have a project in mind at this time?	At this time, I would want to continue the project I have planned for my residency in March of this year which is exploring themes of what I've been calling "Dark

Do you have a project in mind at this time?
Tell us why you want to join Quarantine	I've been in the mindset of a student for too long and I am ready to become a more confident artist without feeling like I need to rely on guidance. This is partially due to the fact I've been taught by mentors from an early age (15) on and off.
Briefly describe your Artistic and Creative difficulties	I think my biggest problem is being certain and sure of my work. I often feel like there are standards I have to reach in the professional world (which is true) but I have trouble self-determining the value of my own work.
What are your inner demons?	Insecurity , Inconsistency
Anything else you want us to know?	I've studied under Sterling Hundley who shared this program to his followers on Instagram. He has consistently stated that what I lack is patience in myself, my work, and my process. I hope that by joining this I will be able to learn how to be more patient.
