Introduce yourself	I am Deniz, a 23 year old full-time female oil painter originally from Istanbul and currently residing in San Francisco and doing my B.A degree in Studio Art in San Francisco State University. My full-time journey's surprisingly been going well, and I am currently seeking some gallery representation.

Do you have a project in mind at this time?	I am currently working on a series of self-portraits centering around the subject of "ribbon" (can be seen on my website / portfolio), and my next goal is to create a hand-painted animation of it, oil painting each frame.
Tell us why you want to join Quarantine	I think I would benefit from isolation, and being around diverse creatives would definitely fuel my inspiration. And Spain, of course, I need a reason to travel! Most of the guests / mentors are already very inspirational to me.
Briefly describe your Artistic and Creative difficulties	I believe that most of them stem from being in my 20s. I am still trying to find myself on canvas. While I still want to experiment SO MUCH, I also want to settle for a certain stylistic expression to be more "gallery acceptable". This is my main dilemma. And yeah there are also technical difficulties, I want to strengthen my realism skills.
What are your inner demons?	Stagnation , Style
Anything else you want us to know?	I have read your FAQs but is it really no phone (even inside the room / private space) ? I am fine throwing my phone off entirely but I have family members that I would have to make sure are okay at least some time during the day.
