| Introduce yourself                        | Being dyslexic written introduction are not my forte but i will start with the basics. Venezuela saw me come to life; Barcelona, Spain guided me through my adulthood and now as I write this I am currently in my gap year in Gent, Belgium as an Ink and Paint Artist for a film. I work and breath in a field I love, which is 2D hand drawn animation. |

| Do you have a project in mind at this time?   | I have 2 projects in mind. A short film based on a 15min piece of music, talking about one of my biggest fears: how easy it is to end up living on the street. The lack of privacy and the depression and madness that comes with it; and/or a book on a post apocalyptic world already cured after years of mycelium did its magic.                  |
| Tell us why you want to join Quarantine   | Last year and after being obsessively productive for most of my adult life and not stopping when my body said "nop", I injured my arm. So now I will take advantage of the situation and change perspectives. Vulnerability is a good starting point to change patterns.  |
| Briefly describe your Artistic and Creative difficulties  | This is difficult to say, but I think I have lost that blind drive. That feeling that you get of being connected to something. Maybe in a subconscious level it is fear of not being able to use my right arm. But my arm is perfect now. So like Robert Crumb said in his documentary I don't know, you tell me.Objectively I have lost the "doing". |
| What are your inner demons?   | Stagnation  |
| Anything else you want us to know?  | Menorca is a magical island. If I don't see you, Enjoy!   |
