Hi Mimi.

Here I am again writing as always. I want to let you know that I'm very grateful for having you in my life as my mother-in-law, family. You are amazing, the best that I could've asked for. And then I think "What would I do without you?", right. Since I first got here, you've been amazing, welcoming, compassionate, close, friend.

What we are going through right now, it's so hard, I won't lie. But having your support, love, affection, care, all that, it's really important and means a lot to me. I've always told my mom how I love you and how you are with me, and she is also thankful.

I don't know what is going to happen or when, there is a passage I read everyday and try to remind myself of that, it says "May you be lifted up and thrown into the sea, and it will happen." But you must really believe it will happen and have no doubt in your heart. I tell you, you can pray for anything, and if you believe that you've received it, it will be yours" Mark, 11-23, 24. I confess it's really hard to keep that in my heart, and God knows it, He sees my struggles all the time. Most time I feel hopeless, sad, exhausted, tired of this place, I don't belong here. And in my prayers I also tell Him, "Father, if my life back, my freedom, being with my family, that's not what You hold for me, please have mercy on me and take my soul, but don't let me live like this, suffer and bring suffering to my loved ones, I'm already in too much pain, don't let me have those thoughts, suicide, or even asking to someone to help me end my own life, please".

I know it's harsh and tough to read it and know how I feel, but God knows that I feel exactly this way. I'm not willing to spend life in prison for something I didn't do, and put my family and you guys through it. Would be very painful for me. I've been thinking a lot how or what I can do to take my life away, here it's harder because we can barely have something, in prison would be easier, maybe getting in a fight with other prisoners or something like that? I know it's crazy, but that's how my mind is, going far. I also think "I can't do this to myself, I'm 23 years old, I have a family that loves me unconditionally, waiting for me.
