

10/22/23

We got off the phone tonight and all I think of is you. You don't deserve the situation you are in. I miss you so dearly. We all miss you so much. I think about it all the time that you saved me. You brought light back into my life ~~for~~ from all the darkness and sadness. You are beautiful and kind even far away. Tragedy can bring people together with a hope to rebuild. This was the toughest of situations and you did your best and the right thing.

You helped lift me out of my depression with your wonderful smile and bright gleaming eyes.

Everyday is tough without you here. It is extremely lonely. I'm here ^{eagerly} waiting for your return. Your spot is ready for you. I love you ~~Remember~~ I know you said you have had dark thoughts. Remember your journey is not told yet and it is definitely not complete. There will be much brighter days ahead.

I Love you so much

Brendan
