Hi babe! Well, this letter is just in case if I don't make it again through my bond hearing or even my preliminar hearing, who knows. I really hope I make it through. I want you to understand what is going on, and this is the only way, so you can also understand why I'm so afraid.

Well, they arrested me for the obvious reason, right? But they want me to cooperate against you, because according to them I know more than it's been said, and they say they ~~do~~ know more than I think they know. I know a few things they have related to you and to me. I said before that I'll be basically talking for both of us, since they have me here, they've said about fingerprints on the K, camera of neighborhood that shows our driveway, statement of someone that saw us together in February, so they say I know more than I told ~~the~~ ^{them}. At the police station on Oct 13th, they showed me our pics from last year, my shoes, then pics of other girls on your phone that you had, and they said "you are not the only one in his life Juliana, I think with you he just got what he wanted". they also said something about her insurance having a good amount of money to you, etc.

I'm just making more clear what they are trying to do. they arrested me with a warrant from the majesty (not sure how to spell that), but if they bring to a grand jury and they sue a warrant, they can ^{skip} keep the preliminar hearing and instead just keep me here bringing my case to trial. they might do it. the only way of this case not going to trial, if they drop the charge, and we know they want. Anyways, I want you to be okay, and also aware of the situation and why it's scary and terrifying. they have the two phone calls to 911 saying they hear something in the first one; still running fingerprints from the K, to find the 8 points, but they can say that's ^{yours} ~~hers~~ and his, he had two phones, gf in NYC, said the Ziptie they found it's similar to the ones they found in the garage (??). Of course there are more than we know. this is not easy. I just want to go home and be with you, my love. that's all this whole time here I'm just in too much pain, you have no idea. I just want this to be over, and be with you.

I love you so much, babe. the way I never felt before.

All I think about it's you, us, being home, this situation over, etc.

It's too much pain. that I want to take this away in one way or another.

thank you for being an amazing person, boyfriend, friend

I will choose you every single day, I want you to be my husband and father of my kids. I want come back home from work, to you guys. I want to live every day with our family. I keep thinking about those things, and it brings me hope and I feel happy picturing those things.

You are the best I could've asked for. You've thought me a lot. We've lived a lot together in a short time, and I'm ready to keep living my whole life with you, the love of my life, my man, my handsome husband.

I loved you yesterday, today, I will love you tomorrow and every single day.

And I will show my love in all the possible ways.

I love you and miss you more than anything, my love.

I hope to see and be with you again as soon as possible.

Eu amo você e sinto sua falta.

with love, Juliana ♡
