What is Litigation Funding?

Litigation funding is a mechanism whereby a qualifying investor funds all the costs of a piece of litigation, in return for a share of the proceeds.

If the claim fails, the funder loses the money, and the litigant doesn't need to pay them back.

UK law firms require immediate capital in order to stay ahead of the competition and to quickly pursue the high volume of cases that arise each week.

The litigation funding company typically covers all of the costs of the case, in return for a share of the proceeds. When the law firm wins the case, the litigation funding company also receives back the funding they provided.

For the last decade, investors have also participated in funding cases. Investors money is used to cover the costs of litigation cases, and in return they receive a fixed rate of return or a share of the case proceeds. In most cases, third-party funding will only be available for claims that have a very high probability that the claim will be successful. The funding is also usually provided with the protection of an insurance policy. This is to mitigate the risk of the litigation funder.

Litigation Funding Market Size

The UK litigation funding market has quadrupled in size since 2013

Litigation finance is now a multibillion-dollar global industry, drawing in private equity funds and big institutional investors on the promise of double-digit returns.

The UK litigation funding market has quadrupled in size since 2013.

Swiss Re research found there was around $17 billion invested in litigation finance globally in 2020, with more than half of that deployed in the US.

In the UK, $2.7 billion was on the balance sheet of the country's top 15 funding firms last year, almost double the figure three years earlier, according to data from law firm RPC.

Woodville's Model

Woodville primarily operate in cases of personal injury, housing disrepair and mis-selling claims. No win-no-repayment means only cases with a good prospect of success tend to get funding.

Video explainer: <https://vimeo.com/1002645181/9eb311d39c>

Diversification

If a client invests with Woodville, the loan is much more diversified as it is spread across numerous loans. Rather than aiming to win 60% of cases funded like a typical litigation fund, their model is to win many more cases.

Track Record

Over 210,293 cases have been funded since inception, with zero defaults.

Lower risk, fixed term loans

Loans made by Woodville to law firms are low value (£1,000 - £5,000 depending on the claim type) and short term (6-12 months).

Fully Insured

To further protect Woodville, the loan is secured on an ATE (After The Event) insurance policy. If a claim is lost or discontinued, the loan is repaid to Woodville from the insurance policy proceeds.

Robust cash flow

Woodville charge the borrowing law firms interest on a simple, not compound, basis at a cost of 5% per month.

Track Record

The company began raising capital in 2019. Since then, over 210,293 claims have been funded, with zero defaults.

Litigation funding market

Litigation funding is a mechanism whereby a qualifying investor funds all the costs of a piece of litigation, including adverse costs, in return for a share of the proceeds.

The UK Law Society estimates that the UK Litigation market is worth more than £30 billion to the UK economy.

In most cases, third-party funding will only be available for claims that have a very high value and strong chance of success. This is so the litigation funder isn't taking on too much risk when paying for legal action it has no direct involvement in.

It will usually also be a requirement for the person making the claim to have insurance protecting themselves, and therefore the funder, from paying any of an opponent's costs should the claim fail. This is known as ATE (After the Event Insurance).

The main benefits of Woodville's funding to a law firm are:

- Empowers lawyers to pursue a claim that they could not otherwise afford to make
- Allows lawyer to improve the strength of the claim
- An ATE policy must be in place, which protects the repayment of the loan if the claim is unsuccessful
- We have a strong record in supporting access to justice
- The interests of the consumer are considered paramount

How do Woodville protect investor capital?

The anticipated default rate is less than 1% on all cases funded. The Investor security points are summarised below:

- Woodville's Interest is front-loaded, so risk of default on the interest is zero.
- Targeting smaller value Cases of £1,000 – £5,000 carries much less risk, and provides extra diversification across the investor capital.
- Woodville's loan is secured on an ATE (After The Event) insurance policy. If a claim is lost or discontinued, the loan is repaid to Woodville from the insurance policy proceeds.
- Assignment rights over each case is held by Woodville to protect in the event of solicitor going into liquidation.
- The defendant is insured, so the judgment is settled by a well-capitalised insurance company, giving a very high chance of successful enforcement of any judgment
- Woodville take a charge over the borrowing law firm, with personal guarantees sought where possible.

'No-Win, No-Fee' agreements

Conditional fee agreements allow individuals to make a legally binding arrangement with a solicitor that some or all of the fees involved in making a claim will only be paid if it is successful. These are commonly known as "no-win, no-fee" agreements.

No-win, no-fee agreements are an important part of litigation financing and allow people access to justice without the risk of prohibitive costs. Woodville focus on these claims, which are typically ignored by the large litigation funders who cannot process such small claims on the required scale.

The main advantage of entering into a conditional fee agreement is that the client and solicitor share the risk as well as the costs of a commercial claim. If the case is unsuccessful, a client will only have to pay a small amount, if any, of a solicitors' fees and for disbursements and expenses.

Litigation funding market

Litigation funding is a mechanism whereby a qualifying investor funds all the costs of a piece of litigation, including adverse costs, in return for a share of the proceeds.

The UK Law Society estimates that the UK Litigation market is worth more than £30 billion to the UK economy.

In most cases, third-party funding will only be available for claims that have a very high value and strong chance of success. This is so the litigation funder isn't taking on too much risk when paying for legal action it has no direct involvement in.

It will usually also be a requirement for the person making the claim to have insurance protecting themselves, and therefore the funder, from paying any of an opponent's costs should the claim fail. This is known as ATE (After the Event Insurance).

The main benefits of Woodville's funding to a law firm are:

- Empowers lawyers to pursue a claim that they could not otherwise afford to make
- Allows lawyer to improve the strength of the claim
- An ATE policy must be in place, which protects the repayment of the loan if the claim is unsuccessful
- We have a strong record in supporting access to justice
- The interests of the consumer are considered paramount

How do Woodville protect investor capital?

The anticipated default rate is less than 1% on all cases funded. The Investor security points are summarised below:

- Woodville's Interest is front-loaded, so risk of default on the interest is zero.
- Targeting smaller value Cases of £1,000 - £5,000 carries much less risk, and provides extra diversification across the investor capital.
- Woodville's loan is secured on an ATE (After The Event) insurance policy. If a claim is lost or discontinued, the loan is repaid to Woodville from the insurance policy proceeds.
- Assignment rights over each case is held by Woodville to protect in the event of solicitor going into liquidation.
- The defendant is insured, so the judgment is settled by a well-capitalised insurance company, giving a very high chance of successful enforcement of any judgment
- Woodville take a charge over the borrowing law firm, with personal guarantees sought where possible.

'No-Win, No-Fee' agreements

Conditional fee agreements allow individuals to make a legally binding arrangement with a solicitor that some or all of the fees involved in making a claim will only be paid if it is successful. These are commonly known as "no-win, no-fee" agreements.

No-win, no-fee agreements are an important part of litigation financing and allow people access to justice without the risk of prohibitive costs. Woodville focus on these claims, which are typically ignored by the large litigation funders who cannot process such small claims on the required scale.

The main advantage of entering into a conditional fee agreement is that the client and solicitor share the risk as well as the costs of a commercial claim. If the case is unsuccessful, a client will only have to pay a small amount, if any, of a solicitors' fees and for disbursements and expenses.
