

24. The Situation

---

You've been working really hard at your new job. The boss calls you into her office. You and all your friends at work expect you're going to get a raise or promotion. The boss says she's going to have to lay you off – times are bad, and you were one of the last people hired. When you come out of her office, your friends are all waiting to hear the news. What do you do? (Unit 6, Lesson 3)

---

See the Situation Cards appendix in the Making the Effort™ Teacher's Guides for instructions on using the cards and possible solutions.