

Use All The Help You Can Get

Name _____

DIRECTIONS: Each of these people needs help or advice. Read about each person. Then look at the sources of help. For each person, add your idea of who could help. Then decide whom you'd see, or what you'd do, and put a * next to your choice.

J. T. wants to build shelves for his apartment. He can get plans from:

magazines

library books

furniture stores

(your idea):

Lucy and Keith are afraid. Their baby does not seem to eat enough. They can get advice from:

Lucy's mother

local health clinic

daycare center director

(your idea):

Ben wants a pet kitten. He can find out how to get a kitten by checking:

the animal shelter

newspaper ads

bulletin boards in town

(your idea):

Morris has had a headache all day. He can get advice from:

his roommate

the pharmacist

the label on the aspirin bottle

(your idea):

Oz wants to train to be a dental aide. He needs money to go to technical school. Oz can get information from:

his dentist

his bank

college financial aid office

(your idea):

Name _____

Pablo feels very down. He's been worried ever since his father got sick. Pablo can't seem to get going again. So he just sits around and feels bad. Pablo can get help from:

local mental health center friends
crisis hotline telephone number (your idea):

Warren and Alice got married last year. Things went well at first. But in the past two months, they have been fighting a lot. Warren and Alice can get help from:

their parents marriage counselor
minister, priest or rabbi (your idea):

Richard was laid off from his job. He has used up all his savings. He can get help from:

local social services agency
a loan company (your idea):

Lin bought a speakers last week. They stopped working today. Lin called the store where he bought it. The owner said he could not to anything about it. Lin can get help from:

legal aid clinic

Better Business Bureau

the company that made the speakers

(your idea):

Mary thought she knew where her friends lived. But she got lost on the way there. She can get directions from:

a gas station

a person on the street

her friend over the phone

(your idea):

Name _____

Name a problem you have:

Who could help with this problem? (List your ideas.)
Check whom you would go to first.
